OpenCircle Constitution & Community Structure

1. Mission & Vision

OpenCircle exists to empower creators, participants, and dreamers—rewarding real contribution and meaningful collaboration through transparent, community-driven ownership.

We aspire to set a new standard for digital communities: open, inclusive, sustainable, and governed by those who build them.

2. Core Values

- Openness: Every voice is welcomed. All information, proposals, and accounts are shared transparently.

- Collaboration: No one builds alone; every success is group-earned.

- Community Ownership: All members—regardless of status—can propose, discuss, and vote on key decisions.

- Meaningful Contribution: Tangible impact and positive engagement are rewarded above all.

3. Governance Structure

a. Token Voting

- All major decisions are made by OCL token holders, using one-token-one-vote on platforms like Snapshot (see snapshot.org).

- Proposals can be submitted by any member with a minimum OCL balance (to prevent spam).

b. Proposal Process

- Proposals are posted for open community comment before voting.

- Voting periods are at least 3 days; results visible to all.

- Accepted proposals are implemented and tracked publicly.

c. Emergency Powers (Safeguards)

- In case of security, fraud, or urgent technical failure, the founding Safe multisig wallet may pause operations with a public statement. Power returns to token holders ASAP.

4. Rewards, Treasury & Distribution

- All OCL token allocations (including team, treasury, future rewards) are fully disclosed here and on-chain.

- Treasury spending must be approved by community vote OR follow a transparent, pre-approved schedule.

- Community incentives and rewards are prioritized for actions with real, positive impact.

5. Community Roles & Responsibilities

- Founders/Admins: Organize, facilitate, moderate, and ensure all processes remain open. Cannot override community votes except under emergency by published protocol.

- Ambassadors/Moderators: Appointed or elected to help onboard new members, prevent spam, and maintain community spirit.

- Members: Expected to embody the Ethos, participate in proposals/discussions/votes, and hold each other (and moderators/admins) accountable.

6. Transparency & Amendments

- All governance actions, treasury transfers, and admin decisions are posted/linked in Discord, Telegram, Twitter, and the official site.

- The Constitution is a living document—amendable only by OCL holder vote, with every change tracked and the reason documented.

7. Code of Conduct

OpenCircle is a safe space for diverse backgrounds and respectful disagreement. Harassment, hate, discrimination, and malicious activity lead to removal by community moderator consensus.

8. Contact & Feedback

- Official email: hello.opencircle@gmail.com

- All feedback and suggestions can be posted in Discord/Telegram or proposed as constitutional edits by community vote.
